AN ORGAN OF NAZI PROPAGANDA

1. (1936 OLYMPICS IN BERLIN). BERLINER ILLUSTRIRTE ZEITUNG; 2. Olympia- Sonderheft - Preis 1 Mai. Berlin: Ullstein, (1936). First Edition. 4to, pp. 96. Bound in stiff illustrated wraps (cover separate, lower edge of the front cover broken off) Illustrated with B & W photographs throughout. While the text is in German, the rear cover has the contents in French and English. [55980] $225.00
Wikipedia: 'The Berliner Illustrirte Zeitung, often abbreviated BIZ, was a weekly illustrated magazine published in Berlin from 1892 to 1945. It was the first mass-market German magazine and pioneered the format of the illustrated news magazine... Under the Third Reich, the Berliner Illustrirte like all other German publications was subject to Joseph Goebbels' Propaganda Ministry. In the 25 March 1934 issue it began serial publication of Hermann Göring's memoirs, written by Eberhard Koebell, but was forced to withdraw them after Goebbels objected. In mid-1934 the Ullstein family business was "aryanised", and the Berliner Illustrirte became an organ of Nazi propaganda; previously non-political, with the outbreak of war in 1939, it started featuring stories about the military and German victories.'
2. ALBERT H. BRICKMAN CO. - INC. DISTINCTIVE FURNITURE HARDWARE; Fireplace equipment, lighting fixtures. Boston: Brickman. 4to, pp. 79. A catalog, fully illustrated, with price list laid in. Paper wraps. Cover separated; and a little chipped, o/w VG. soiled. Romaine p. 168 (cites a 44 page catalogue). [44603] $65.00

THE 1%, IN FRANCE, PRINTED IN RED

3. [ANON]. THE LIVRE ROUGE, or The Red Book: being a list of secret pensions, paid out of the public treasure of France: and containing characters of the persons pensioned, anecdotes of their lives, an account of their service. And observations tending to shew the reasons for which the pensions were granted. Translated from the eighth Paris edition. Dublin: Byrne, 1790. First Irish Edition. 8vo, pp. 160. Front hinge loose. Bound in rubbed and some worn leather backed paper boards (paper lacking from front cover), with some library stamps inside. A good copy for all that. Entirely printed in red. An English edition appeared the same year. See Tourneux, Bibliographie de l'histoire de Paris pendant la revolution Francaise, 3.13483; ESTC T108411 (for the UK Edition); not in Martin-Waller or Saricks. [24683] $700.00
The original French edition of this pretended to be the official list of pensioners published by the government. It was more likely issued to embarrass the ruling class portraying them as a group of loafers living off the work of the population burdened with taxes. It's appearance in England is an indication of the British Jacobean interest in the French goings on. The existence of a Dublin printing is especially strange given that the Irish working population spoke mostly Gaelic and this nasty work is not really aimed at the ruling class who were the subject of its satire. The British library Catalogue offers a possible attribution to Jean-Baptiste Martin Louis La Reynie de la Bruyere (q.v. Querard 4.558-559)
4. [ANON]. AN IMPARTIAL ENQUIRY INTO THE MANAGEMENT OF THE WAR IN SPAIN. by the ministry at home, and into the conduct of those generals, to whose care the same has been committed abroad. Collected from many original letters and councils of war never published before. Together with an account of the several embarkations, both of British and Foreign troops, that have been sent to Spain or Portugal for the support of the present war. And a distribution of the annual sums granted by Parliament, and applied to those services. London: John Morphew, 1712. First edn. 8vo, pp. viii, 265, 139. Bound in recent calf backed boards by Grey Parrot, with some scattered soiling and foxing, a very good copy. Not in Halkett & Laing. [17916] $450.00
Under the reign of Queen Anne, England went to war to wrest the Spanish dominions from Philip of Spain and give them to Austrian Archduke Charles. This caused a split between the British Whigs who supported the war and the Torries who were less interested. Eventually, the Peace of Utrecht was signed in 1713 stipulating for the permanent separation of the Crowns of France and Spain.

5. ANTI-SLAVERY MONTHLY REPORTER; Volume I. Commencing June 1825 and ending May 1827. London: Printed for the London Society for the Mitigation and Abolition of Slavery in the British Dominions, 1827. First Edition, of the first volume. 8vo, pp. 392. Each issue is 12 pages long. Bound in recent black half morocco (by Phillip Dusel), marbled sides, red morocco label, gilt rules, decorations and lettering. The first volume with the first 24 numbers of the influential Anti-Slavery Monthly Reporter, as issued with a general title in 1827. The Monthly would continue until 1836. [45421] $1,200.00
Reports from all the West Indian islands plus Berbice and Mauritius. Many eye-witness reports of maltreatment of slaves with names and details of estates. Discussion of slave laws and moves towards the emancipation of the slaves. Includes views of Demerara, Trinidad planters, Ladies' Anti-Slavery organizations, Jamaican jurisprudence, proceedings of the House of Commons on slavery, news from Trinidad, Barbadoes and St. Vincent, statistics of slave colonies, Haytian Proclamation, and much more.

THREE MONTHS IN PRISON

6. [APPLETON, Elizabeth Haven. ]. INSURRECTION AT MAGELLAN; Narrative of the Imprisonment and Escape of Capt. Chas. H. Brown, from the Chilean Convicts. Boston: For the author, 1854. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 228. Frontispiece and floor plan of the barracks at Sandy Bay, moderate external wear, remnants of label on end paper, a very good tight copy. Palau 36215; Sabin 8459; not in Brise nor Hill. [32472] $250.00
Brown was captain of the barque Florida, an American merchant ship based in New Orleans. In October 1851 the Florida set sail from Valparaiso, intending to pick up cargo in Rio de Janeiro. At the Chilean government's request, Brown agreed to ferry a group of political prisoners, most of them participants in the 1851 rebellion, to the penal colony at Sandy Bay in the Strait of Magellan. On arrival, the Florida was captured by mutinous Chilean officers. Brown describes in considerable detail the insurrection, his three months' imprisonment, and his eventual escape and capture of the mutineers, with bitter comments about the lack of aid he received from British naval vessels.

30 HAND COLORED PLATES

7. [AUDOT, LOUIS EUSTACHE]. FIGURES POUR L'ALMANACH DU BON JARDINIER; Representant les Ustensiles les plus generalement employs dans la culture des Jardines: ... Ouvrage utile a toutes les personnes qui, possedant Le Bon Jardinier ... Paris: Audot, (1817?). Second edition, corrected and augmentes with 5 additional illustrations. 12mo, pp. 37 pages of letter press and illustrated with 30 fine hand colored plates, each with multiple images. Untrimmed and bound in contemporary boards, roan spine label, some minor shelf wear, soiling and foxing. (Small paper wear at lower foreedge of the title-page) A very nice clean tight copy. Rare, not known to Nissen, Pritzel, Hunt, Plesch and RLIN. Querard, 122. Not in OCLC which lists single locations of the 10th edition (1834) and the 11th edition (1839). [27493] $600.00

Louis Eustach Audot (1782-1870) was the author and publisher of numerous works on horticulture and botany; the present volume was surely one of his earliest, anonymous, efforts. Querard writes: "Le Bon Jardinier doit chaque annee a' son zele actif de nombreuses ameliorations. Sous la designation d'un Amateur de jardins, il a redige' le cinquieme edition du Traite de la composition et de l'ornement des jardins. Les plans des jardins sont de lui. Son gout pour l'horticulture lui donne les moyens de faire un bon choix de plantes pour la deuxieme serie de l'Herbier de l'amateur, qu'il a publie, et d'indiquer souvent leur histoire et leur culture." 'Le Bon Jardinier', with which the above is associated, was the first garden journal to be issued in France, first in 1754.

The plates include details of the leaves, flowers and sexual systems of various types of fruits and flowers, as well as examples of tools, shovels, rakes, scythes, pruners, barrows, and also several plans for greenhouses and cold frames. The plates are delicately engraved and attractively colored.

Vendôme, Imprimerie de la Haute-Cour, an V. 256 pp.-jii pp.-(1)p. non chiffrée-(1)f. errata. This is an essential part of the lawsuit published before the judgement of the High Court. It was included, also, in the volume of the bebate. Martin & Walter I, 1126. Vol. 5-6 HAUTE-COUR DE JUSTICE. COPIE DES PIÈCES saisies dans le local que Babœuf occupait lors de son arrestation. - Suite de la copie des pièces... Paris, Imprimerie nationale, nivôse an V (1797). 334 pp. [This is one of the fundamental documents of the history of "The Conspiracy of Equals." Indeed, the volume 5 (pp. 159-163) contains the first known printing of the famous "Manifesto of the Equals" that was not reprinted until 1828 when it was published by Buinarotti in his "Conspirqacy of Equals" who formally attributes it to Slvain Marechal. Moreover, it is upon the documents in this work that the court supported its charge that lead to the death penalty. [Daline, Saitta, Soboul, 51]. The final volume is uncut and bound in contemporary wraps: RESUME DE PRESIDENT DE LA HAUTE-COUR DE JUSTICE, a la suite du debat, dans l'affaire du representant de peuple Drouet, de Baboeuf et autres, accuses de conspiration contre la surete interieure de la Republic. Seances des 2, 3, et 4 prairial. (Ans V, 12 Mai, 1796). All of this material is very scarce. OCLC shows just one location of our first 6 volumes (GUA). [54622]$9,500.00

French political agitator and revolutionary, Francois Noel (Gracchus) Babeuf (1760-1797) led the so called "Conspiracy of Equals" against the French Directory. The plot was denounced by the traitor Grisel and a wave of arrests were made on May 10, 1796. There were 65 defendants, including 5 women. A High Court of Justice was held in Vendome in October of 1796. Babeuf and Darthe were executed. As noted by the Britannica: "Babeuf ... published the first number of his "Journal du Liberte de la presses, the title which was altered on the fifth of October to "La Tribune du People." The execution of Robespierre on the 28th of July had ended the Terror, and Babeuf ... defended the men of Thermidor and attacked the fallen terrorists with his Saul violence. But he also attacked from the point of view of his own socialistic theories, the outcome of the Revolution ...this had few supporters ... and in October, Babeuf was arrested and sent to prison in Arras. Here he came under the influence of ... Lebois, editor of the "Journal de l'Egalite" afterwards the "Ami Du Peuple", papers which continued on in the tradition of Marat. He emerged from prison ... convinced that his Utopia ... could only be realized through the restoration of the Constitution of 1793. [The economic problems increased and] "the universal misery gave point to the violent attacks of Babeuf on the existing order ... He gathered around him a small circle of his immediate followers known as the "Societe de Eqaux", soon merged with the rump of the Jacobins." The trial lasted three months. Babeuf and Darthe were executed and a number of others exiled. "Historically his importance lies in the fact that he was the first to propound socialism as a practical policy, and the father of the movements which played so conspicuous a part in the revolutions of 1848 and 1871."

CONDEMS THE ARMIE OF ROBESPIERRE AS GENOCIDAL

9. [BABEUF, Gracchus]. DU SYSTEME DE DEPOPULATION; ou La vie et les crimes de Carrier; son procès, et celui du comité révolutionnaire de Nantes: avec des recherches et des considérations politiques sur les vues générales du décemvirat, dans l'invention de ce système; sur sa combinaison principale avec la guerre de la Vendée; et sur le projet de son application à toutes les parties de la république. Paris: Franklin, 1795. Second Impression of the first edition, labeled "Second Edition" but has the same errors in pagination as the first. 8vo, pp. [viii], 9-194 (ie. 192, pp. 153/154 non existant), frontis portrait of Carrier bound in on a stub, bound with the half-title in original sewn wraps, housed in a custom clam shell box. Untrimmed, some toning to the first half dozen leaves, a very nice clean copy. Martin & Walter I, 950; Lemiere 17. [27541] $1,850.00

The "First Revolutionary Communist", French political agitator and revolutionary, Francois Noel (Gracchus) Babeuf (1760-1797) led the so called "Conspiracy of Equals" against the French Directory. This was the first violent attempt to install socialism in a country. The plot was denounced and a wave of arrests were made on May 10, 1796. A High Court of Justice was held in Vendome in October of 1796 and Babeuf was executed.

In this tract, Babeuf condemns the policy of the Republican armies of Robespierre as genocidal against the rebellion in La Vendee. Jean Baptiste Carrier (1756-1794) was said to be responsible for the execution and murder of 15,000 men, women and children, on the orders of the "Convention" until recalled by the Committee of Public Safety in 1794. He was finally brought before the Revolutionary Tribunal and executed in 1794.

THE ECONOMIC RELATIONS BETWEEN EMPIRES

12. [BARRON, William]. HISTORY OF THE COLONIZATION OF THE FREE STATES OF ANTIQUITY; Applied to the Present Contest between Great Britain and her American Colonies. With Reflections concerning the Future Settlement of these Colonies. London: Cadell, 1777. First Edition. 4to. vii, [1], 151 With the original blanks and half title. Bound in modern calf- backed boards with new end paper, some foxing and toning but generally nice and clean with wide margins. Adams, American Controversy, 77-18a; Howes B-179; Kress B.9; Sabin 3644a. [48183] $850.00

A discussion of the taxation and other economic relations between empires in antiquity as a way of looking at the conflict that was taking place between the US and the UK. "Colonialization is one of the methods which nations, in all ages, have employed to secure their conquests." "At a season when the rebellion of the British colonies in America, one of the greatest events of modern times, engages deeply the attention of the nation ... an author, unknown to the leaders of public measures ... offers to his countrymen a history of colonialization ... His great object has been, to investigate the nature of the connection which subsisted between nations and their colonies; to determine the extent of the jurisdiction the former assumed over the later; but, particularly to ascertain the practice of antiquity with regard to the much controversial article of taxation."

THE ACTIVITIES OF THE CLERGY DURING THE FRENCH REVOLUTION

13. BARRUEL, L'abbey [Augustin], Aumonier De Son Altesse Serenissime La Princesse De Conti. HISTORIE DU CLERGE PENDANT LA REVOLUTION FRANCOISE: ouvrage dedie a la Nation Angloise par... Uncut and bound in original paper boards (little shelf-worn, upper joint broken, with some very minor foxing) A very good copy. See Hoefer IV, 600. [20365] $225.00

*A fresh, unsophisticated copy of this history of the activities of the clergy during the French Revolution written while Barruel was in exile in London. A French Jesuit, Barruel (1741-1820) was a professor in Vienna before returning to France. He was one of the collaborators of the journal Année Littéraire and began to distinguish himself as one of the zealous opponents of the anti-Christian philosophy then popular in France. After a massacre of priests in 1792, he escaped to England where he was welcomed by Burke. He then published a book on the history of Jacobeanism. The present work was well received and much reprinted.*

33. CAREY, Henry Charles And Lea, Isaac. THE GEOGRAPHY, HISTORY AND STATISTICS OF AMERICA AND THE WEST INDIES; Exhibiting a correct account of the discovery, settlement, and progress of the various kingdoms, states, and provinces of the western hemisphere, to the year 1822 ... with additions relative to the New States of South America, &c. , illustrated with maps, charts, and plates. London: Printed for Sherwood Jones, and Co., 1823. First UK edition, with additions. 8vo, pp. vi, [ii], 477, [1]. Illustrated with 8 large folding colored maps, three folding colored tables, five folding engravings and one folding table. Short tear to the first map and folding table opposite pp 18 & 64; some minor browning and waterstain to the title-page, (due to the crude removal of ownership signature from the half-title, end paper with minor foxing. Bound in contemporary yellow boards, rebaced and recornered in half calf, spine lettered in gilt. Boards little scuffed and worn. A very good tight copy.

Goldsmiths 23714; Kress C. 1024; Sabin 10843; Howes C-133. [16854] $2,200.00

This is an abridgement of Carey & Lea's A Complete Historical ... American Atlas (1822). This edition has a reduced number of illustrations (the 1822 edition had 22 maps) but the maps have been reengraved or may be different and the anonymous English editor points out the extensive additions that have been added to the work by the London publishers and apologizes for the 'asperity of expression relative to England' offered, no doubt due to the recent war of 1812. The author proudly details the growth of the country noting the ceding of Florida by Spain. Both authors gained considerable reputation as writers and publishers and Carey came to be considered a leader of the American school of political economy. (See the DAB). The hand-colored frontis map of the US is 14x18 inches and shows the continent as far west as Missouri and Arkansas. The maps include the United States, a general map of the North America, British possessions in America, Mexico, the West Indies, the Caribbean islands, South America, Colombia, Brazil, United Provinces and Chile. The views show Quebec, Havannah, Philadelphia and Rio Janeiro.

Chandler (1693-1766) was a non-conformist divine. After his wife lost her fortune in a South Seas scam, he was forced to open a bookshop. He later was a pastor for 40 years. In many ways, this is an attack on Catholicism.

40. CHILD, Mrs.[Lydia Maria]. AN APPEAL IN FAVOR OF THAT CLASS OF AMERICANS CALLED AFRICANS. NY: John S. Taylor, 1836. Second edn. 8vo, pp. 216, without the engraved frontispiece of a praying slave inserted but with two full plates bound with the text, quotation of S.T. Coleridge on the title-page. Previous copies we have had the frontispiece but just one plate in the text. Bound in modern cloth with paper label; light foxing throughout, a very good copy. See Work p. 299; Dumond p. 28; Sabin 12711; BAL 3116 (for the first edition). Scarce. [54229] $475.00

Child (1802-1880) was born in Medford, MA. She was a close friend and influence on Margaret Fuller. Throughout her life, she devoted herself and her writings to the anti-slavery and feminist movements. Child's first book, Hobomok, written when she was 21, is an interesting foreshadowing of her future concern about racial and religious tolerance. In the story, set in Salem in 1630, a young white woman marries a Pequod Indian, Hobomok. Mrs. Child was an active abolitionist, and here denounces laws against miscegenation, unequal education, and the like. This book created a furor in Boston and alienated the author from polite society. "While converting many, it also aroused condemnation, bringing the author financial ruin and social ostracism"[Blain p. 202].

41. CHURCH, the late Colonel George Earl. ABORIGINES OF SOUTH AMERICA; edited by an old friend (Peruvian Scholar) Clements R. Markham. London: Chapman and Hall, 1912. First Edition. 8vo, pp. 314. Bound in little rubbed drab green cloth, a very good tight copy. [27204] $150.00

The author was unable to finish this MSS before he died. But he had finished the portions on "the Amazonian races and tribes south of the great river, those of the Gran Chacu, as well as the Araucabian, Pampas, and Patagonian Indians. Church was born in Massachusetts, educated as an engineer and was resident Engineer for the building of the Hoosac Tunnel. After this work, he was invited to go to

42. CLARKE, (Dr.) James Freeman. ANTI-SLAVERY DAYS; A sketch of the struggle which ended in the abolition of slavery in the United States. NY: Worthington, 1884. Second edition. 8vo, pp. 224 Bound in blue cloth stamped in gilt. Pages little toned, contemporary book plate, a very good copy. This was first issued by Lovell the preceding year. [43562] $125.00

Clarke (1810-1888) was a Unitarian Minister. He was active in the movements for woman suffrage, temperance and abolition as well as the Transcendentalists. He testified at a hearing in favor of woman suffrage before the Massachusetts Legislature in March of 1857 and spoke at the New England Woman Suffrage Convention in May of 1959. In the present volume, Clarke offers a history of the abolition movement for the younger generation who may have forgotten the struggles of the past.

THE NAPOLEONIC CODE PRINTED FOR USE IN ITALY

Bound in original vellum with vellum label stamped in gilt. Little foxed and stained, a very good tight copy with excellent margins. Scarce, OCLC locates just the copies in Genoa and the George Washington University Law Library. [52296] $750.00

The Napoleonic Code - or Code Napoléon (the official name being the Code civil des Français) - is the French civil code established under Napoléon I in 1804. The code forbade privileges based on birth, allowed freedom of religion, and specified that government jobs should go to the most qualified. It was the first modern legal code to be adopted with a pan-European scope, and it strongly influenced the law of many of the countries formed during and after the Napoleonic Wars. It was drafted rapidly by a commission of four eminent jurists and entered into force on 21 March 1804. The Code, with its stress on clearly written and accessible law, was a major step in replacing the previous patchwork of feudal laws. Although Joachim Murat, brother-in-law of Napoleon Bonaparte, was proclaimed King of the Two Sicilies by the Edict of Bayonne in 1808, he controlled only the mainland Kingdom of Naples but not the island Kingdom of Sicily. The two kingdoms were formally united as the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies by the Congress of Vienna in 1816. This is the official translation of the French Napoleonic Civil Code for use in Joachim's States.

The first attempt to give a complete statistical survey of Britain and her colonies. "Particularly important, not so much because of its estimates of national wealth, but because of the economic reasoning, however primitive, which is offered in explanation of the facts presented, and of the attempts to state and solve problems - to paraphrase factually, as it were, the more popular doctrines of the times.." - Schumpeter. "This book may be regarded as one of the most important bases of economic and socialist researches and criticisms during the Ricardian and Owenite period.." - Beer, History of British Socialism

KENNETH ROBERTS' BOOK ON AGRICULTURE

53. DARWIN, Erasmus. PHYTOLOGIA, or the philosophy of agriculture and gardening, with the theory of draining morasses and with an improved construction of the drill plough. London: 1800. First Edition. 4to, pp. Illustrated with 12 engraved plates, including one folding and one double page. Bound in contemporary 3/4 calf (piece nicked from the bottom of the spine), some foxing, couple of plates with water stain, plates foxed. Generally a very clean copy. Author Kenneth Robert's copy with his bookplate. Henry 615; Nissen 452; King-Hele, Erasmus Darwin 58-62; Wheeler Gift 621; McDonald page 224. [36911]$1,200.00

*Erasmus Darwin (1731-1802) was an English physiologist and poet, the grandfather of Charles Darwin. A physician in Litchfield, UK, Darwin kept an 8 acre botanical garden. Darwin's reputation rests on his long poem, The Botanic Garden (1789) which anticipates the Linnaean system. It was crude poetry seemingly written in a carriage while Darwin was traveling between patients. He described the plants through a misplaced amusing personification. In the present work, he described the plants as having sensation and volition. Roberts is best remembered for his American historical romances, ie Trending into Maine, Northwest Passage, Arundel, etc.*

*Prison reformer, author, lecturer and early proponent of the superiority of the female sex, Farnham (1815-1864) was born in Rennselaerville, NY. She is known for her Woman and Her Era, which glorified the reproductive role of women and espoused the notion that the female sex had been created for a higher and more refined sphere than the male, whose responsibility it was to provide the environment to nurture this higher calling for women. Farnham worked with Samuel Gridley Howe at Perkins Institute, then sailed from NY, attempting to lead a group of unmarried women to the gold fields to provide some stability in California. She arrived in Santa Cruz County in 1849 and wrote this book which discusses feminist issues while maintaining the narrative of her journey and subsequent experiences. Farnham has added an appendix with comments on the Donner Party and the San Francisco Vigilance Committee of 1856.*

AGAINST AN ESTABLISHED AMERICAN RELIGION

71. FINDLEY, William. OBSERVATIONS ON "THE TWO SONS OF OIL"; Containing a vindication of the American Constitutions, and Defending the Blessings of Religious Liberty and Toleration Against the Illiberal Strictures of the Rev. The first true manual of horsemanship of the Italian Renaissance, the work of the Neapolitan nobleman Federico Grisone, who inaugurated his own school in 1532. Based on his experience, Grisone wrote Gli Ordini di Cavalcare, outlining methods for instructing the student in the style of the high school. Grisone worked primarily with war horses, and his training involved heavy curb bits and cruel punishments. He was greatly influenced by the works of Xenophon, the Greek cavalry officer, who lived about 400 B.C. Translated into the major European languages, Grisone's work became a standard reference book for the cavalry, and influenced equestrian thought for the following century.

Edinburgh:: Printed by William Adams junior .. , 1723. First Edition. Small 4to, pp. vii; [1] 132. Bound in 19th century half blue morocco over marble boards, some contemporary doodles in the lower margin of the title page, o/w a very good clean copy. ESTC T140711. [58223] $450.00

Elizabeth More (1320-1355) was the Countess of Strathearn, Countess of Athol and wife of Robert II, King of the Scots. (Robert was the first monarch of the House of Stewart.) She was initially Robert's mistress and their children born out of wedlock because they were 4th cousins. Hay's treatise attempts to show that they were married in 1334 after Robert was granted a Papal dispensation, all of their 10 children were legitimized in 1347. Pope Clement VI, the fourth Avignon pope, granted the dispensation and Elizabeth and Robert went through a formal marriage ceremony. Although all their children were legitimized by this process, the children of Robert's second marriage would always question their legality to inherit the throne of Scotland. Elizabeth died in 1353, possibly in childbirth in her early thirties. She was buried either at Paisley or Scone. Her eldest son, John Stewart, Earl of Carrick would eventually succeed to the throne upon the death of his father as Robert III.

127. MAIRAN, Mr. [Jean Jacques D'otous de]. TRAITE PHYSIQUE ET HISTORIQUE DE L'AURORE BORE'ALE; Suite des memoires de l'Academie Royale des Sciences annee M.DCCXXXI. Paris: de L'Imprimerie Royale, 1733. First Edition. 4to, pp. [8], 281 + 15 engraved folding plates of aurora examples by Ph Simonneau. Bound in contemporary full calf (lacks the spine label), lacks a couple of small pieces at the extremities of the spine. Gilt coat of arms on the covers. Bookplate of the Societe Litteraire of Geneva on the end paper. Nice wide margins, generally a very good clean copy. DSB 9, p. 33; Honeyman 2112; Poggendorff II, pp. 17-18; Lande p. 397. [54205] $1,500.00

Jean-Jacques d'Ortous de Mairan (26 November 1678 – 20 February 1771) was a French geophysicist, astronomer and most notably, chronobiologist, was born in the town of Béziers on 26 November 1678. Over the course of his life, de Mairan was elected into numerous scientific societies and made key discoveries in a variety of fields including ancient texts and astronomy. His observations and experiments also inspired the beginning of what is now known as the study of biological circadian rhythms. In 1718, de Mairan was inducted into the Académie Royale des Sciences. The Cardinal and the Count of Maurepas selected Mairan to replace Bernard le Bovier de Fontenelle as Associate Secretary of the Academie in 1743. De Mairan also served as the Academie's assistant director and later director intermittently between 1721 and 1760. Eventually, de Mairan was appointed editor of the Journal des sçavans, a science periodical, by Chancellor d'Aguesseau. Also, in 1735, de Mairan was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society and in 1769, a Foreign Member of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences as well as to the Russian Academy (St. Petersburg) in 1718. De Mairan was also a member of the Royal Societies of London, Edinburgh, and Uppsala and the Institute of Bologna. With Jean Bouillet and Antoine Portalon, he founded his own scientific society in his hometown of Béziers around 1723. Mairan proposes that the aurora were vapors from the sun that entered the Earth's atmosphere. The treatise was published as Suite des Memoirs de l'Academie royal des Sciences for the year 1731.

THE BEST EDITION, NEARLY FOUR TIMES THE SIZE OF THE FIRST EDITION- COMPLETELY REWRITTEN

128. MALTHUS, T[homas] R. AN ESSAY ON THE PRINCIPLE OF POPULATION; or, a View of its Past and Present Effects on Human Happiness; with an Inquiry into our Prospects Respecting the Future Removal or Mitigation of the Evils which it Occasions. A New Edition, very much Enlarged. London: Printed for J. Johnson, by T. Bensley, 1803. Second (enlarged) edition. Large 4to, pp. viii, [3]contents, [1]errata, 610. Bound in contemporary full calf, rebaked at an early time with the original spine laid down. Ownership signature on the endpaper of "N.W. Ridley Colborne" on the endpaper and "Horace W. Baddle 1859" on the top of the title page. Some light intermittent spotting and staining, but a nice clean copy with wide margins. Garrison-Morton 1693; Carpenter XXXII (2); Einaudi 3668; Goldsmiths' 18640; Kress B.4701; Mattioli 2207, See Printing and the Mind of Man # 251. [45495] $6,000.00

The great quarto edition of Malthus' masterpiece, a very important work in the field of economics and a source of Darwin's "idea of 'the struggle for existence'" (PMM)

The Reverend[Thomas Robert Malthus FRS (1766 – 1834) was a British scholar, influential in political economy and demography. He has become widely known for his theories concerning population, and its increase or decrease in response to various factors. The six editions of his Principles of Population, published from 1798 to 1826, observed that sooner or later population gets checked by famine, disease, and widespread mortality. The central idea is a simple one: that population expands geometrically while food production grows arithmetically.

This edition, though being the second, may be considered as a new work, which Malthus himself also claimed; -it is thoroughly revised and much enlarged (nearly four times the length of the original essay, the title has been changed (the title of the first is merely: "An Essay on the Principle of Population, as it Affects the Future Improvement of Society with Remarks on the Speculation of Mr. Godwin, M. Condorcet, and Other Writers") He notes: "In the course of this inquiry, I found that much more had been done, than I had been aware of, when I first published the essay. The poverty and misery arising from a too rapid increase of population, had been distinctly seen, and the most violent remedies proposed, so long ago as the times of Plato and Aristotle. And of late years, the subject had been treated in such a manner, by some of the French economists, occasionally by Montesquieu, and, among our own writers, by Dr. Franklin, Sir James Steuart, Mr. Arthur Young, and Mr. Townsend, as to create a natural surprise, that it had not excited more of the publick attention" (Preface to the second edition, p. IV). "The "Essay" was highly influential in the progress of thought in the early nineteenth-century Europe. "Parson" Malthus, as Cobbett dubbed him, was for many, a monster and his views were often grossly misinterpreted. But his influence on social policy, whether for good or evil, was considerable. The Malthusian theory of population came at the right time to harden the existing feeling against the Poor Laws and Malthus was a leading spirit behind the Poor Law Amendment Act of 1834." (PMM 251)

129. MARIA THERESA, Archduchess of Austria, Queen of Hungary and Bohemia, Empress Consort of Francis I, Emperor of Germany [1717-1780]. CONSTITUTIO CRIMINALIS THERESIANA; oder der Romisch-Kaiserl. zu Hungarn und Boheim, &c. &c. Konig. Apost. Maiestat Maria Theresia Erzherzogin zu Osterreich, &c. &c. Peinliche Gerichtsordnung. Wien: Johann Thomas Edlen von Trattnern,, 1769. First Edition. Folio, pp. [xvi], 282, lvi, Illustrated with 27 engravings in the text & 3 folding engraved plates (included in the pagination). One of the plates was misfolded and is consequently slightly frayed at the lower edge, with an old paper repair at the foreedge, not affecting the print area. Woodcut and typographic ornaments and initials. Text in German black letter with glosses in Latin. Bound in contemporary calf, spine gilt, little rubbed and recently rebacked, red edges. Woodblock printed end papers. Some toning to the text, The binding is a little rubbed but still a very good, crisp and clean copy.

Laid in: MARIA THERESA; EMPRESS. Autograph Note Signed, "Maria Theresia," on black rimmed mourning paper to paymaster Mayer, in German, concerning her son's [?] pension, requesting 500 ducats or sovereigns, and, in a postscript written at lower edge and vertically at upper edge, adding that the letters would follow in the evening. 1 page, 12mo, mourning stationery; some staining affecting signature (but still legible), folds. [Vienna, circa 1776] [52694] $6,000.00

Maria Theresa was the eldest daughter of emperor Charles I and of Elizabeth Christina of Brunswick. At the death of her father in 1740, she became the sole heiress of his dominions of the house of Austria. Upon her accession to the throne the neighboring countries tried to capture parts of the empire which led to the Wars of Austrian Succession which finally concluded with the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1748. This is the famous criminal code of Maria Theresa which used torture as a means of "eliciting truth." Her instincts were absolutist and she would allow nothing that limited state power even as she reformed the education system and worked to better the lives of her citizens. And, she did not forbid torture. Torture was only to be used in capital and very serious criminal cases. Included in this volume are very graphic illustrations of instruments of torture (thumb-screws, stocks, racks, burning candles, leg vices, winches, the Viennese shoe!) with detailed and precise instruction of their use. According to the Britannica, this edition was suppressed by Prince Kaunitz, chancellor of the state and an advisor to the Empress. Torture was formally abolished in the empire in 1776.

Maria Theresa Walburga Amalia Christina was the only female ruler of the Habsburg dominions and the last of the House of Habsburg. Maria Theresa and her husband, Francis I, Holy Roman Emperor, had sixteen children, including Queen Marie Antoinette of France. Maria Theresa was the absolute sovereign. She promulgated financial and educational reforms, promoted commerce and the development of agriculture, and reorganized Austria's ramshackle military, all of which strengthened Austria's international standing.

133. MARTINEAU, Harriet. RETROSPECT OF WESTERN TRAVEL; in two volumes. London: Saunders and Otley NY: Harper, 1838. First US edn. 8vo, pp. 276, 239. 2 volumes bound in one in later 3/4 calf, some light foxing, but a very good clean tight set. Not in Graff, Howes M-348; Robinson p. 144; Sabin 44941; Clark III, 205. [11476] $300.00

Martineau (1802-76) is remembered as an essayist, educator and novelist. Her two books on her journey to the US are remarkable for her outspoken criticism of slavery and criticism of repressive chivalry. Robinson notes that Martineau's Society in America discusses the politics of her visit to America while this work discusses the mechanics of her travel, which took her the length of America: from Niagara to Texas, where she spent a good deal of time in the South. She mentions New Orleans, Charleston, SC, and Virginia before heading to Baltimore, Lexington (KY) and Cincinnati.

THE FIRST MODERN LEGAL CODE OF THE NEW WORLD

134. [MASSACHUSETTS COLONY. The Charter Granted by Their Majesties King William and Queen Mary, to the Inhabitants of the Province of the Massachusetts-Bay in New-England. [Bound with:] Acts and Laws, of His Majesty's Province of the Massachusetts-Bay in New-England. Bound with the Acts and Laws 1726 through 1731. Boston: Printed by B. Bound in contemporary paneled calf (finely rebacked in style, corner tips and top of title-page repaired). Some browning and fraying of preliminary leaves, and along the edges, pen trials throughout). Provenance: dated inscription of Oakes Angier (176(0), partially torn into; presented to

David Kingman, 1778; then presented to Simon Greenleaf from Ezra Kingman in 1812; Amherst College, manuscript inscription, withdrawn. Copies in the trade are rare, none have appeared in ABPC for the last 25 years. Evans 2762; 2900, 2901, 2902, 3054, 3055, 3056, 3057, 3182, 3306, 3307, 3440. [31275]

The Massachusetts General Laws and Liberties were first promulgated in 1648 and the earliest surviving published collection of them was printed in 1660. They have been regarded as the first modern legal code of the western world. The laws retained some elements of the English common and statute law, but introduced considerable reforms in systems of land tenure and established new freedoms of speech and opinion in both the judiciary and local government. They granted equal protection to all under the law, defined rights of bail and appeal and moved toward stripping the Church of temporal authority. They, "pointed the way to democratic social and political institutions that were gradually incorporated into the legal structures of other colonies and other nations." (OCAH, pp. 514-5). The make up of these composite sets of laws vary considerably-further sessions were continuously paginated and added as they came off the press. The initial 1692-1726 collection, bound here, corresponds exactly to the collation give in Ford & Matthews, Bibliography of the Laws of Massachusetts Bay (1910) p. 357. The additional 11 sessions, each have a caption title and the majority with dated colophons.

The provenance of this volume is quite interesting. It contains the ownership signature of respected East Bridgewater (MA) lawyer, Oakes Angier (1745-1812) who trained with future President John Adams for a time. The book was then given by Angier to a Bridgewater neighbor and son of Captain David Kingman, a colonial representative, David Kingman (1763-1812). Upon his death, the volume was passed along by his brother to his son-in-law, Simon Greenleaf (1783-1853). Lawyer and author, Greenleaf became one of Portland, Maine's most skilled lawyers and was reporter of the Maine supreme court. He was appointed Royall Professor of Law at Harvard, and, along with Judge Joseph Story was the architect of Harvard Law School's rise to eminence. In 1846, he succeeded Story as Dane Professor of law at Harvard. His Treatise on the Law of Evidence (1842-53) became the foremost American authority.

THE FIRST AMERICAN EDITION

135. MATHER, Cotton. MAGNALIA CHRISTI AMERICANA; or, The Ecclesiastical History of New England from its first planting in the year 1620, unto the year of our Lord, 1698 in seven books. Hartford: Silas Andrus, 1820. First American edition from the London edition of 1702. Two volumes. 8vo, pp. 573, 595. Bound in contemporary full leather, rubbed, contemporary name on end papers, some moderate foxing and staining, a good set. Howes M-931. Sabin 46393. Cf Church IV 806. Cf Streeter II 658. [55513] $600.00

*Cotton Mather (1662/63-1727/28) was a Puritan clergyman, author and scholar, son of Increase Mather. He was ordained in 1685 at the Boston Second Church where he stayed for the rest of his life. He was one of the most eminent divines in New England and he was politically very powerful and involved. He set up and supported a school for the education of slaves. He was a prolific writer and is best remembered for his Magnalia Christi Americana [1702]. "This, the most famous of Cotton Mather's works, though relating generally to New England, is principally devoted to Massachusetts. It is the most famous book produced by any American during colonial times. Filled with a vast amount of valuable material, it is indispensable to the student of New England history; but its statements should be accepted only when corroborated by other contemporaneous writers." (Church) "Mather's Magnalia is the most famous book of colonial times and the indispensable source for colonial social history. One part of it gives the history of the settlement of New England, another contains the lives of its governors and magistrates, the third relates the lives of "Sixty Famous Divines", the fourth a history and roll of Harvard College, the fifth is the history of the New England Church, and the last treats of the "Wars of the Lord", namely against the devil, the Separatists, Familists, Antinomians, Quakers, clerical imposters, and the Indians." from Wikipedia: Thomas Hayton Mawson (5 May 1861 – 14 November 1933), known as T. H. Mawson, was a British garden designer, landscape architect, and town planner. Mawson designed gardens in various parts of Britain, and others in Europe and Canada. In London he designed gardens at The Hill, in Hampstead for Lord Leverhulme. The impressive 800 ft long pergola is now open to the public as part of the West Heath. He designed Rivington Gardens and Lever Park in Lancashire also for Lord Leverhulme. Padiham Memorial Park (1921) was another commission in Lancashire. Mawson also designed the gardens at Wood Hall near Cockermouth, Cumbria, which were completed in 1920. Much of this garden still survives today. From 1910 to 1924 he lectured frequently at the school of civic design, Liverpool University. He also contributed articles on garden design to The Studio magazine and its annual The Studio Year Book of Decorative Art. Mawson was a fellow of the Linnean Society, late lecturer on landscape design at the University of Liverpool. The best edition of this classic work.

This is a history of the Shay's Rebellion in western Massachusetts written by one of the founders of the Mass. Historical Society. After the American Revolution, when Continental soldiers had been paid with worthless Continental script and the state government was pressed for tax money, the returning yeoman farmers were losing their land to Boston merchants who had gold or Pounds Sterling. This prompted an armed rebellion which quickly spread to all of the states of the newly formed Confederacy. Because the central government had no army, the Boston merchants hired a mercenary army to put down the insurgency and capture Shays. On August 29, 1786, a large group of these disenfranchised citizens appeared in force in Northampton under the leadership of Daniel Shays. Violence was narrowly averted, but in January the insurgents marched on the national arsenal in Springfield. Once again Shays' men were defeated, this time in armed conflict, and within two months the rebellion was quelled. Shays and a dozen others escaped to Vermont. They were eventually tried and condemned to death, but were later pardoned.

Within four years, most of the reforms demanded by the Shaysites were adopted. In fact, it was this rebellion and the others through-out the Confederacy which hastened the establishment of the US Constitutional Convention.

"Nansen, one of the most significant figures in the history of Arctic exploration was originally a naturalist. He decided in 1888 to attempt the crossing of Greenland, and with five companions, including Otto Sverdrup, set off in June of that year. The crossing, by small boat, ski and sledge, achieved many important scientific objectives, including meteorological observations, as well as illustrating the ideal methods of Arctic travel. His most important achievements were on the Fram Expedition of 1893-96. He established the nature and drift of the Arctic ice-pack, having deliberately allowed the ship, built to his own design, to be frozen into the ice. During the expedition, Nansen, with one companion and 3 dog sledges, achieved the highest latitude yet attained."

150. PAINE, Thomas. DROITS DE L'HOMME; en reponse a L'attaque de M. Burke sur La Revolution Francoise. Traduit de l'Anglois par F[rancois] S[oules]. Avec des notes et une nouvelle preface de l'Auteur. Paris: Buisson, May 1791. First French edition. 8vo, pp. 227. Bound with the half-title on later quarter-calf. Some foxed, a very good copy. Howes P-31; Martin & Walter 26330 (variant); Printing and the Mind of Man 241 (English edition 1791). This follows the first English edition by about six weeks and reprints the original text as it appeared in the suppressed first English edition. Paine also wrote a preface expressly for this edition. The first English edition was suppressed by the intimidated English publisher. Only a few copies escaped being destroyed. The next English editions were some toned down. This edition, then, has the original inflammatory language which so enraged the British critics. Bound with: Opinion de Thomas Payne ... concernant le jugement de Louis XVI, Precedee de sa lettre d'envoi au President de la Convention ... [1792]. First edition. 8vo, pp. 4. Two volumes in one. [40041] $4,000.00

Dedicated to George Washington President of the United States of America ... a small treatise in defense of the Principles of Freedom ... Paine (1737-1809) was born at Thetford, Norfolk, the son of a Quaker staymaker. His meeting with Benjamin Franklin in London changed his life and he sailed for America in 1774. His Common Sense presented arguments for independence and a republic. The present work, defending the French Revolution and the natural rights of men had a tremendous circulation before the government took alarm and suppressed it. He was indicted for treason but escaped to France before he could be tried. He died in New York. The second title offers Paine's opinion that Louis XVI must be put to trial. PMM: "Paine's 'answer to Mr. Burke's attack' took argument to a higher level. With a force and clarity unequalled even by Burke, Paine laid down those principles of fundamental human rights which must stand, no matter what excesses are committed to obtain them ... Rights of Man can be seen for what it is: the textbook of radical thought and the clearest of all expositions of the basic principles of democracy."

THE OFFICIAL JOURNAL

151. [PANCKOUCKE, Charles Joseph (1736-1798)]. GAZETTE NATIONALE; ou Le Moniteur Universel. nos. 182-365. Jeudi, 1st Juillet 1790 - Second Annee de la Liberation to Vendredi 31 December 1790 ... A discussion on the mythology and influence of celestial bodies. A French writer, Pluche (1688-1761) was a classical professor at Reims, before taking Holy Orders and becoming director of the college at Clarement. His opinions forced him to leave the college and he settled in France where he made his reputation with his popular work "Spectacle de al Nature" (1732) in nine volumes. It was translated into 9 languages and was popular in England. The present work was first issued in 1735.

This Catholic apologist offers a extended discussion of Newtonianism and the conformity of modern science to the teachings of Genesis. "In his Histoire, Pluche restated his opposition to the cosmologies proposed by the physicists-whom he termed `romans philosophiques'-- and sought to display the excellence of the physics of Moses, which supposedly conforms to the teachings of both `history and experimental physics. He also attempted to demonstrate that monotheism preceded polytheism." (Dic. of Scientific Biog. XI, pp. 42-44).

Bound in contemporary linen (discolored at the bottom of the spine from the removal of a library label), library bookplate on the end paper, a very good copy. [58461] $600.00

From Wikipedia: "Robert Matthews (1788–c. 1841) was an American carpenter, businessman, and religious figure who gathered a cult-like following in 1830s New York. His aliases included Robert Matthias, Jesus Matthias, Matthias the Prophet, and Joshua the Jewish Minister. Matthews successfully converted three wealthy businessmen who helped fund his founding of a settlement he called the Kingdom. The Kingdom eventually got tied up in adultery, bankruptcy, and murder; consequently landing Matthews in jail. He is also remembered today for his brief encounter with Joseph Smith, the founder of the Latter Day Saint movement. Matthews was born in the farming village of Cambridge, in Washington County, New York, and was raised an Anti-Burgher Presbyterian. In 1795 both of his parents died, leaving him along with his four brothers and five sisters to the care of kin and neighbors. In 1806, Robert began learning carpentry and by 1808 had ended up in Manhattan. After accusations of assault and battery on a female, possibly his sister-in-law, Robert returned to Cambridge and set up a successful business. During this time Matthews made occasional visits to New York and soon met his wife, Margaret, whom he married in 1813. Robert's business soon went bankrupt and he was forced to move his family back to New York, where he again took up carpentry. In 1830 he had a vision of a flood about to descend on Albany and fled the city, leaving his wife and six children to wander through western New York. He later returned and succeeded in convincing three wealthy merchants named Sylvester Mills, Benjamin Folger, and Elijah Pierson to give him a great deal of money and the deeds to two houses, in exchange for "promised abundance in the kingdom of heaven." Folger went bankrupt and in 1835 had Matthews arrested and briefly incarcerated for obtaining money under false pretenses. Matthews, along with his servant Isabella (later known as Sojourner Truth), was accused of murdering Pierson, but was acquitted. Upon his release from prison later in 1835, Matthews traveled through Ohio, and on 9 November of that year he paid a visit to Joseph Smith under the pseudonym "Joshua the Jewish Minister." The two discussed resurrection and reincarnation. Matthews claimed to be both God and the reincarnation of the apostle Matthias; he also said he was a literal descendant of Matthias, and that transmigration of the soul typically went from father to son. False rumors circulated that Matthews had joined the Mormons, but in fact his meeting with Smith ended with the two prophets denouncing each other as Satanic. At one point, Matthews was committed to a hospital for the insane in New York.[2] He is reported to have died in Iowa Territory".

Sojourner Truth (born Isabella (Belle) Baumfree; c. 1797 – November 26, 1883) was an African-American abolitionist and women's rights activist. Truth was born into slavery in Swartekill, Ulster County, New York, but escaped with her infant daughter to freedom in 1826. After going to court to recover her son, in 1828 she became the first black woman to win such a case against a white man. She gave herself the name Sojourner Truth in 1843 after she became convinced that God had called her to leave the city and go into the countryside "testifying the hope that was in her". Her best-known speech was delivered extemporaneously, in 1851, at the Ohio Women's Rights Convention in Akron, Ohio. The speech became widely known during the Civil War by the title "Ain't I a Woman?," a variation of the original speech re-written by someone else using a stereotypical Southern dialect; whereas Sojourner Truth was from New York and grew up speaking Dutch as her first language. During the Civil War, Truth helped recruit black troops for the Union Army; after the war, she tried unsuccessfully to secure land grants from the federal government for former slaves. In 1832, she met Robert Matthews, also known as Prophet Matthias, and went to work for him as a housekeeper at the Matthias Kingdom communal colony. Elijah Pierson died, and Robert Matthews and Truth were accused of stealing from and poisoning him. Both were acquitted of the murder, though Matthews was convicted of lesser crimes, served time, and moved west. Truth sued the NY newspapers for libel based on their sensational reportage of her role in the Matthias sect. She wound up in the Millerite movement until shortly before its collapse, and became an itinerant minister. After preaching the gospel in NY and Connecticut for some months, she joined the utopian Northampton Association in western Massachusetts. While there, she became involved with the abolitionist movement, and changed her name, as her inner voices and her belief in Matthias told her - to Sojourner Truth.

ONE OF THE FIRST MODERN LOST WORLD NOVELS

192. [TYSSOT DE PATOT, Simon. VOYAGES ET AVANTURES DE JAQUES MASSE. A Bourdeaux (ie. The Hague): James L'Aveugle, 1710 [ie. 1714]. First Edition. 12mo, pp. viii, 508. Bound in contemporary calf (neatly rebacked in antique style), little rubbed, some minor foxing soiling, a very good tight copy. Rosenberg "A" Gove, 217-219; Cioranescu 62587; Barbier IV, 1103; Atkinson, 'The Extraordinary Voyage in French Literature', p. 70; Rosenberg, pp. 84-5. The genuine first edition, falsely dated. [39159] $2,500.00

An important imaginary journey to Australia, called a "landmark" by Atkinson. Based on a variety of real voyages the descriptions are believable and realistic. The author offers a detailed account of making a camp, building a raft. While the book did not range much beyond the confines of the traditional Utopias of the times, it did, however, include "living fossils," giant birds and strange flora that survived from prehistoric eras, arguably making it one of the first modern Lost World novels. After being shipwrecked on the continent, the narrator and a friend pressed on and developed a farm in "a plentiful, fruitful country" until forced to flee by a treacherous woman.

Tyssot de Patot (1655-1727) was a Huguenot who lived most of his life in Holland where he pursued a career as professor of Mathematics at the Athenaeum Illustre in Deventer, the capital of the province of Overijssel.

193. UNDERHILL, Francis T. DRIVING FOR PLEASURE; or, the harness stable and its appointments. NY: Appleton, 1897. BUILT WITH THE DONATIONS OF ABOLITIONS
Burnt Down After 4 Days by a Mob!

198. [WEBB, Samuel]. HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA HALL, which was destroyed by a mob, on the 17th of May, 1838. Philadelphia: Merrihew & Gunn, 1838. First Edition. Tall 8vo, pp. 200. Some foxed and some marginal repairs to the title-page. Illustrated with two of three plates (lacks the frontispiece). Bound in brown cloth that shows some wear. Includes remarks by W.L. Garrison, Theodore Weld, Angelina Grimke Weld, Abby Kelly and others. Howes W-189. [21765] $200.00
Pennsylvania Hall was built from donations of members of the abolitionist community. The hall was used for only four days before it was sacked and burned by a reactionary crowd. During the third day of the hall's existence, it was used by the Anti-Slavery Convention of American Women. The two plates here included show the hall in flames and the ruins of the building after the fire had been put out.

URGED THE DENIAL OF THE EXISTENCE OF WITCHES

199. WEBSTER, John. THE DISPLAYING OF SUPPOSED WITCHCRAFT. Wherein is affirmed that there are many sorts of Deceivers and Impostors and Divers persons under a passive delusion of melancholy and fancy. But that there is a Corporeal League made betwixt the Devil and the Witch, or that he sucks on the Witches Body, has Carnal copulation, or that witches are turned into cats, dogs, arise tempests, or the like, is utterly denied and disproved. Wherein is also handled the existence of Angels and Spirits, the truth of Apparitions, the nature of astral and sydereal spirits, the force of charms, and philters; and other abstruse matters. London: J. M., 1677. First Edition. folio, [xvi], 346, [iv]. Engraved headpiece above chapter one. With the imprimatur leaf, final blank and free endpapers. Rebound in new calf backed marble paper with new end papers. Tape remnants to the inner margin of the title and imprimatur leaf. This is a large paper copy with wide margins (13-1/2 x 9-1/8 inches). Leaves little toned, but a very good copy. Wing W1230. Krivatsy 12612. Norman 2191. Osler 4202. OCEL I:157. Lowndes, 2864; Hunter & Macalpine, 209-211; Bibliotheca Chemica, 532; Caillet 11366. [43600] $4,500.00
This is a forceful rejection of what Webster perceived as popular credulity on the subject. He was, however, by no means a thorough skeptic, and spoke reverently of "that secret and sublime art of the transmutation of metals," and clearly had a strong belief in 'natural magick' and its proponents, describing Agrippa and Fludd, respectively, as "that great philosopher and master of natural and lawful Magick," and "a person of much learning and great sincerity." Thus Ferguson commented that "Though a declared skeptic about witchcraft, he was in love with astrology, alchemy, Rosicrucianism, and mysticism," further observing that while 'The Displaying of the Supposed Witchcraft' was 'a well reasoned and sensible attack on that misbelief, it did not stem the tide of popular superstition and cruelty. While odium was heaped on the author by Glanvill and Henry More. Webster (dealt largely in theological and scriptural arguments. It was along this line, indeed, that he made his most important contribution to the controversy then going on. Glanvill had urged that disbelief in witchcraft was but one step in the path to atheism. No witches, no spirits, no immortality, no God, were the sequences of Glanvill's reasoning. In answer Webster urged that the denial of the existence of witches, i.e. of creatures endowed with the power from the Devil to perform supernatural wonders—had nothing to do with the existence of angels or spirits... If we grant the existence of spirits, to modernize the form of Webster's argument; we do not thereby prove the existence of witches" (Notestein, 299-300). Norman notes: "Webster attacked the credulous views of Meric, Casaubon, Richard Glanvill, and Henry More concerning witchcraft and demonology."

ASSERTS THAT WAR IS UNCHRISTIAN

200. [WELLS, Seth Youngs]. A BRIEF ILLUSTRATION OF THE PRINCIPLES OF WAR AND PEACE, showing the ruinous policy of the former, and the superior efficacy of the later, for national protection and defense; clearly manifested by their practical operations and opposite effects upon nations, kingdoms, and people. By Philanthropos. Albany: Packard & Van Benthuysen, 1831. First Edition. 12mo, pp. 112. Bound in original boards, cloth back (spine frayed and torn), some moderate wear, foxing and soiling, a very good copy. Also sometimes ascribed to William Ladd. (See the long note in Richmond) which indicates that was actually written by Wells. Imprints 7882; Richmond 1413; MacLean 78; Sabin 38522. [28380] $225.00

William Ladd (1778-1841) founded the American Peace Society, and "not only contributed to the technique of pacifist propaganda, but was the first to try to bring the peace question into the sphere of politics" (DAB). The author writes in the preface that war is unchristian.

INSTRUCTING NATIVE AMERICANS

201. [WILSON], Bishop Thomas, Lord Bishop of Sodor and Man. THE KNOWLEDGE AND PRACTICE OF CHRISTIANITY MADE EASY TO THE MEANEST CAPACOTOES: or an Essay Towards an Instruction For the Indians; which will be of use to such Christians, as have not well considered the Meaning of the Religion they profess; Or, who profess to know GOD, but in works do deny him. In several short and plain dialogues. Together with Directions and Prayers for the heathen world ... London: Osborne, 1743. Fourth Edition, with large additions. 12, pp. [4] leaves, iv, xxxvi, 270. Title in red and black. Bound in 19th century 3/4 morocco, ex-library, some foxing and soiling, etc. A very good copy, bound with the adv. leaf in the front. Sabin 104691, see De Renne I, 88. Field 1680. [27610]$400.00

This work presents the fundamentals of Christianity to be taught to the Indians in the Georgia colony. When first published, Wilson's evangelical manual had been entitled 'An essay towards an instruction for the Indians'. Bishop of Sodor and Man, began this work at the instance of James Edward Oglethorpe, from whom he derived his interest in North American missions. Mention is also made in this work of the instruction of Negroes. Revisions of this work were entrusted to Wilson's son. Sabin says that the work passed through more than 20 editions, the latest being 1848.

"... generally considered one of the most enlightened of the seventeenth - century writers in gardening and husbandry ..." (Henry): little is known of him except that he lived in Petersfield, Hampshire. The Book, which gathered into focus the scattered information published during the Commonwealth, was the first systematic treatise on husbandry on a large and comprehensive scale. and was undoubtedly a very wide step in the advancement of the art. The book contains much more enlightened observations than any which had previously appeared and features a design for a seed drill. Also includes a section on fishing and another on bees. First published in 1669, and this went through a number of editions (1675, 1681, 1687, 1716).

Accompanied by her sister, Wright first settled in New York City, while she attempted to establish herself as a dramatist. Frustrated by her lack of literary success, she returned to London in 1820. Her letters home however, resulted in the present work, which has been called "One of the most celebrated travel memoirs of the early 19th century [NAW]". This includes material on the condition of the working class, politics, education, religion, slavery, and women, while including the author's unabashed enthusiasm for America. Upon her return to America in 1824, Wright became a leading figure in the agitation for woman suffrage and the abolition of slavery. Of note was her attempt to establish an experimental colony for the gradual emancipation of slaves on land purchased near Memphis, Tenn. She lived at Owen's New Harmony for some years before establishing the "Hall of Science" in New York to serve as a platform for her lecture series. - See NAW, etc.
